

Online conference

S&OP 2022

August 31st, 08.45-13.00

Sales and operations planning

There are typically three dimensions in improving sales and operations planning and planning in general: processes, people, and tools.

THOMAS HOLM

Partner, Implement Consulting Group

Thomas Holm graduated with a master's degree in Operations Management and has over 30 years of experience working with supply chain management, supply chain planning and LEAN.

Thomas has worked for several global companies within Life Science, FMCG, Process Industry and Manufacturing.

He is passionate about planning, especially sales and operations planning, integrated business planning, sales and operations execution and inventory optimization. Thomas has since 2004 been Senior Partner at Implement Consulting Group.

Chairman of the conference

Thomas is chairman of the conference – an excellent communicator, who knows how to set the scene for exciting debate sessions, to make you consider the opportunities and challenges in relation to your own company.